

Virtual event video 5 – Traders' area

This is the main traders' area for the festival. In front of me is the dance area and the main bar area. To my left is the main stage and behind me are all the traders, the food stalls and so on. This again is a really busy area in terms of the public coming and going, but the thing that is characterising this area is that people are carrying food, they're not necessarily paying attention to where they are going, they're mulling about, but it is very spacious.

One of the key points to bear in mind here is the fact that there are at least 3 long rows of food traders on my right hand side. They are going to need access to power, to fresh water for cooking with and so on. They are also going to need to resupply every single day.

To my left is where the retail trade area is going to be. They are also going to need some power, but not to same extent as the food stalls as they are not cooking or anything like that they would just be having power for their own use.

Because this area needs to be restocked everyday there will be vehicles coming on-site, so you will have to be thinking about how that is controlled and how it is kept safe. Do the public get access to this all day long? Is it closed off at any point? You need to be thinking about things like that. When are vehicles going to be allowed in here? So you need to be thinking about access to vehicles, how they get in and out and at what times. You need to think about health and safety in terms of food, cabling and that sort of thing.
